This series of work explores personal figurative themes and aspects of the human condition through the medium of paint, mostly via the process of removing large amounts of the paint that has been applied to the surface, allowing for the image to stain and dismantle itself through time.

Matt Macken b.1986, UK. A self-taught painter – Macken has recently exhibited in various group exhibitions such as 'Antisocial Isolation' by Delphian Gallery at Saatchi Gallery (London, UK) and 'Ancient Deities' at Arusha Gallery (Edinburgh, UK). Antiphon is his first solo show in London.
